50% Pre-Schoolers Register; Parents Urged To Sign-Up Rest

One hundred and thirty children were enrolled in the first grades of the county as a result of the preschool registration held on April 6 through April 13. This represents approximately fifty percent of the anticipated enrollment for the fall.

In view of the fact that plans are now made which will affect the students, the parents of children not now enrolled in school are urged to complete registration without delay. Please remember, that in order for a child to be eligible to enter the first grade, he must be six years of age on or before October 1, 1964. He must be a resident of this county, and the parent or legal guardian must accompany the child to complete registration.

Registration clinics have been scheduled. Appointments can be made at the time of registration, or by calling the Health Department.

Parents with children eligible to enter the first grade may complete registration by coming with the child to the school which serves you. Any questions you may have concerning preschool registration of your child may be directed to the school principal or the School Board Office.

Wheat Growers Urged 'Sign-Up' By May 15

The signup for the 1964 voluntary wheat program now is underway at the ASCS County Office, J. A. Martin, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, announced today.

Interested growers are urged to file applications as soon as possible, since the signup will extend only through May 15.

While wheat growers may take part in the program or not, just as they choose, only those wheat producers who sign up and participate in the program will be eligible for diversion payments, marketing certificates on most of their wheat production, and price-support loans on all their 1964-crop wheat, the Chairman declared.

The diversion payments under the voluntary wheat program will be made for shifting an acreage at least equal to 11.11 percent of the farm allotment to approved conserving uses in addition to maintaining in conserving conservation uses an acreage equal to the conservation base for the farm.

The payments will be based on 20 percent of the county price-support loan rate times the farm normal yield. Provision is also made for diverting additional wheat acreage under the program.

As in previous years, all the wheat produced on a participating farm will be eligible for price support loans, based on the county average rate of $1.4 per bushel. In addition, marketing certificates, with a cash value of 70 cents per bushel for domestic and 35 cents for export, will in general be available for 90 per cent of the normal production of the farm allotment— but not more than the normal production of the allotment acres actually planted for harvest.

Mr. Martin reminded wheat growers that the farm wheat allotment and farm normal yield to be used under the 1964 voluntary wheat program are those issued prior to the marketing quota referendum held in May of last year.

The Chairman suggested that wheat growers who have questions about the voluntary new wheat program get in touch with the ASCS County Office so that they may complete their production plans well in advance of the May 1 deadline for the program signup.

Committee Hears Proposal For "Sound-Light" Program

At the request of the Board of Supervisors of Appomattox County th eRural Areas Development Committee appointed a Centennial Committee to investigate the feasibility of a night seasonal program to be presented at the National Historical Park. This committee heard details of 'Sound and Light' programming yesterday at 2:30 p. m. in a special meeting at the newly reconstructed Court House at the Appomattox Court House National Historical Park.

Present for the meeting were D. Gordan Graham, who was vice-president of Development of the Lumadrama Company, New York, when they produced a sound and light light program at Independence Hall, Philadelphia in 1962, also C. S. There were around 45 local, state and interested parties attending this meeting to hear Mr. Graham speak and show films, depicting 'Sound and Light" programs that had been developed in Europe and in the United States.

The RAD Centennial Committee has been investigating possibilities for a pageant or sound and light program. According to the committee Chairman. Mrs. Wm. W. Burke, this committee has become especially interested in the possibilities for this type of program.

The committee feels that the successful production of a sound and light program' or some other program, if it is feasible for Appomattox, would greatly benefit the State, surrounding counties and Appomattox.

The Old Court House, nearing completion, was scheduled for its first public meeting yesterday. Park Superintendent Steele said that though much remains to be done to ready the interior of the Old Court House for visitors, the park personnel were happy to entertain this group of civic minded officials from the State, surrounding counties and Appomatox.

Robinson Speaks To UDC About Rebel Victory

Mention April 9 and the Civil War, and most everyone thinks about the defeat and surrender at Appomattox on April 9, 1865. However there was another April 9 when the Confederates won a major victory. This victory was the subject of remarks made Friday at the April meeting of the Appomattox Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy by Calvin Robinson, local historian. The Chapter president, Mrs. Calvin Robinson presided at the meeting, held in her home.

The last major victory won by the Confederates came about in bloody fighting April 8 and 9, 1864, at Mansfield, Louisiana. Gen. E. Kirby-Smith was in command, but the famous Gen. Dick Taylor was field commander for the Southerners. A purely defensive battle was planned, but the Southerners seized the initiative and won the battle. It was a soldir's fight, hand to hand with no quartr asked or given. The Confederates relied on swords and sabers, the Union cavalry on pistols and every field officer was killed or wounded, leaving no one to order a retreat or surrender, and the men of the ranks fought it out, with the North finally yielding the field. It marked the climax of what is known as The Red River Campaign.

A business session of the chapter followed the program. Mrs. Robinson was joined as hostess for the evening by Mrs. G. L. Doss and Mrs. H. G. Johnson.

A music program on Friday, May 8 at 8:30, by the Choral Group, will bring the Clinic to a close. Everyone is invited to participate, says Mr. Waddill. Those who cannot attend the clinic are invited to hear the Friday evening concert .

Mayor Declares Clean-Up Week

Dynes Gives Subdivision Report

Appomattox Mayor Dr. S. R. Lawson demonstrates, where and how to attach the new Conservation bumper sticker, County Agent James Smith has about 300 stickers available for conservation-minded motorists. Governor Harrison attached the first one yesterday in special ceremonies in Richmond. Suggestion is that motorists attach the sticker on the left rear bumper.

On Monday night the Appomattox Town Council heard R. C. Dynes, assistant director of planning for Governor Harrison's Division of Industrial Development and Planning in his exp anation of a proposed subdivision Ordinance for the town.

The document, 22 pages in length, cannot be approved officially by Council nor be effected, Dynes told the Council, until county supervisors give their approval to the document since its ordinances would extend beyond the town for two miles, and until a public hearing is held.

Council was scheduled to meet last evening, Wednesday to hear Creed Elliott, of Hankins and Anderson, engineers, from Richmond, with plans for the proposed sewage lagoon. Mayor S R. Lawson read from two letters from the state Water Control Board approving final plans for the lagoon construction. The Water Control Board gave approval for five additional sewage permits on the existing sewerage system.

Mrs. Calvin Robinson, representing a committee which has been conferring with the operators of the Jones Lumber Yard expressed appreciation for their cooperation with the committee.

Council voted to open up Annie Street from Route 460, Confederate Boulevard, to Martha Street. Annie Street is presently open from Martha Street to Ethel Street.

CLEAN UP WEEK

Mayor Lawson said he would declare April 24 — May 9 Clean Up Week. Town Manger Charles Hunter asked residents to call his office when they have large amounts of brush and trash to be hauled away.

Two building permits were granted: One to J. W. McDermon, for a one-room addition to his home and one to George Abbitt, for a one-room addition. Water and Sewage permits were given for the new Jamerson Apartment building off Lee - Grant Avenue.

Rescue Squad Uses Transco Telephone No.

When you need to call the RESCUE SQUAD, telephone 352-2901. The person on the other end of the line will answer "TransCo," because Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation serves as the answering service for the Squad. The Rescue Squad wants to make it clear that calls will be taken at TransCo, and that the Squad is on duty 24 hours a day to help in emergencies.

Bank Displays Crusade Goal

The Bank of Appomattox has devcted space in the lobby for the current Cancer Crusade. Goal for this county, $1400, is prominently displayed, along with pamphlets concerning the danger signals of cancer. Mrs. Frank Chucheck is Crusade chairman.

New Stickers For Conservation

Governor Harrison applied the first Conservation bumper sticker to an automobile yesterday in a special project to publicize the need for all citizens to conserve Virginia's Natural resources.

In Appomattox, the new stickers are available through Jim Smith, county agent who is distributing them to various civic clubs. They're also available at the county agent's office. Appomattox County has been alloted about 300 of these stickers. Each one pictures a map of Virginia with the words, "Help Conserve Virginia's Natural Resources". It is requested that they be placed on the left-hand side of the rear bumper of your car. The decal backing can easily be removed by flicking the edges several times before attempting to separate the backing from the decal.

The first of these stickers was applied by Governor Harrison to the bumper of the car of the Mayor of the City of Richmond, Mayor Shepard, yesterday during the Governor's Conference on Natural Resources which was attended by leaders of business, agriculture, and urban communities who heard leaders in the conservation movement discuss many aspects of this problem.

Reminder To Purchase Town Vehicle Tags

April 15 was the deadline for "Town tags" to be placed on motor vehicles owned by Appomattox residents. Town Manager Charles Hunter has a list of nearly 30 persons who have not yet purchased theirs. Reading from Section 11-43, 11-44, and 11-45 of the Town Code, Hunter said that no person or firm owning vehicles which is located in Appomattox shall drive a motor vehicle without the purchase of a Town Tag.

The tags cost $5 each, he said, but if a motorist has to go to court, he will have the tag cost plus court costs. He urges all residents to purchase tags immediately to avoid the extra penalty.

Appomattox policeman Henry A. White and his alternate E. E. Wallace are authorized to give a summons to residents who do not display the tag on their automobiles, trucks, or other vehicles.

Park Announces New Historian

National Park Service announced Tuesday they appointment of Gregorio S. A. Carrera as historian at Appomattox Courthouse National Historical Park.

Carrera formerly was park historian of the Roosevelt-Vanderbilt National Historical Sites in Hyde Park, N.Y.

Fines Help Tulips Bloom At Library

Fine money comes in by the penny, but the fact that it does mount up is shown at the front of the Appomatox County Library. Tulips blooming there were purchased with "fine money" according to librarian, Mrs. Vi Harwood. The Garden Club of Appomatox contributed shubbery last year. Next project for "fine money" is the purchase of a painting of the library by Ed Hopkinson, local artist.

Broom Salesman Knocks Tonight!

A knock at your door this evening may mean that a Broom Salesman is there, offering a new broom at $1.50 and an opportunity for you to help blind people in Virginia.

This is the first annual Broom Sale by the Appomatox Lions Club and begins at 6 p.m. tonight (Thursday). Proceeds from the sale will go to the Old Dominion Eye Bank Research, Incorporated. Members plan to go from door to door.

The brooms were made by blind workers at the Virginia Workshop for the Blind, Charlottesville.

Other "sight conservation" projects by the local club include paying for repair and replacement of glasses for county citizens — also support and recruitment for donors to the Hinton Memorial Eye Bank, which supplies the needs of blind persons who may see again with a cornea transplant or implantation of vitreus humour. Sight conservation projects are under the general direction of Dr. Clyde G. O'Brien.
